BRIDGES*Bridges are the same grade 3-6 titles only they are written 1-2 grade levels below the appropriate level.*

*The pictures are the same, the content is the same, even the page numbers are the same; however the reading level is 1-2 grades below. Bridges is a great way to “bridge” the gap between your on-level students and slightly below level students. NOTE: The Bridges titles have all been approved; however the purchase options are confusing to write. If you are interested in Bridges, please contact Scott, Bretton or Benchmark and we will get you the appropriate ISBN numbers and prices. Sorry for the inconvenience.

Thank you!

READER’S THEATER – ADD TO PACKS

Let every student in the class participate with Benchmark Education’s Reader’s Theater. Each character in the Reader’s Theater’s are leveled individually, allowing the teacher to strategically place each student according to his or her appropriate reading level. The students do not know they are receiving a certain part based on the readability – the only way to find out which level the character is written at is to look in the teacher’s guide that accompanies each Reader’s Theater script. The new Reader’s Theater (Folktales, Myths, and Legends and the Classics) are also color coded. The color coding enable students to find and recognize their parts with ease. The Content-Area Concepts incorporate Science, Social Studies, and Math into the Reader’s Theater. The Classics are plays such as Romeo and Juliet, The Necklace, and other known classics.
